Louise Barrington, LL.M., Recognized by Cambridge Who's Who for Excellence in Law and Arbitration

Louise Barrington has been named a VIP member for 2011-2012

TORONTO, CANADA, May 4, 2012, Louise Barrington, Director of Aculex Transnational Inc., has been recognized by Cambridge Who's Who for showing dedication, leadership and excellence in law and arbitration.

Since attaining a law degree in 1976, Ms. Barrington has honed her expertise in international commercial arbitration, construction law and international sales. She started her own company, Aculex Transnational Inc., after accumulating many years of experience in Canada, Europe and Hong Kong. Ms. Barrington's work primarily entails assisting her clients in international commercial disputes. She facilitates settlements, arbitrates trade disputes, and coaches legal teams. "My approach is both principled and pragmatic," Ms. Barrington states on her website, www.aculextransnational.com. "My aim is to provide the most skilled and practical service, while minimizing expense and inconvenience to clients."

Ms. Barrington is a qualified lawyer in Ontario, N.Y. and England. She is the founding director of the Vis East Moot Foundation, which brings together hundreds of law students from around the world. Ms. Barrington also founded ArbitralWomen, an international networking organization for women. In light of her accomplishments, she was recently named a VIP member of Cambridge Who's Who. She also received the CPR Diversity award in 2011. Ms. Barrington attributes her success to her persistence, hard work, and ability to communicate. Looking toward the future, she has just joined Arbitration Place, Toronto's brand-new state of the art centre of excellence in arbitration, and plans to expand her international arbitration practice to include North American cases.
